Image Rights & Uses

The photographer/videographer retains all copyright to their submitted images/videos.

By entering this competition you agree to share your contact information with Love in London Limited & its partners. Your contact details/email will only be used for correspondence relating to this competition.

Your name and location may be used in promotional materials to announce the winner and for follow up.

All work entered must be the photographer's/videographer's own. Entrants also guarantee that all copyrights corresponding to the work submitted in their name are theirs.

Entrants certify that they have received in written form appropriate release from all models and persons featured in the work they submit.

Submissions should not defame, libel, or slander anyone or any entity, and should not contain offensive, vulgar, obscene or profane content.

At their discretion, photos and videos from category winners will be displayed on billboards across London as well potentially exhibited by Time Out magazine.

Failure to produce a print-ready high-resolution image appropriate for printing, billboards and exhibition will forfeit the right to win or be short-listed for the competition, or receive any prizes or promotion.

Failure to produce a high-resolution video - appropriate for billboards and use in an exhibition - will forfeit the right to win or be short-listed for the competition, or receive any prizes or promotion.

Copyright in all images and videos submitted for this Competition remains with the respective entrants. However, in consideration of their providing the Competition, each entrant grants a worldwide, irrevocable, perpetual licence to Love in London Limited & its partners to feature any or all of the submitted images and videos in any of their publications, their websites and/or in any promotional material connected to this competition and Relate's activities.

All costs associated with both the printing and distribution of materials relating to the competition, including costs associated with the private view, will be covered by the organisers, with no liability for the Photographer.

The Photographer gives Love in London Limited & its partners the right to print two copies of the winning image which will be signed by the photographer, one to be auctioned by the charity to raise funds and two more copies to be retained by the Charity and Love in London for non-commercial use, which may involve future sales in order to raise funds.

Travel costs for attending the private view, or any subsequent activities of the photographer/videographer relating to the competition and exhibition will be the responsibility of the photographer/videographer.
